

High spirits at reopened Malvern rug gallery

By Caroline O'Halloran

Published: Monday, May 09, 2011

Knots and Weaves celebrated its rise from the ashes at a cocktail party on Thursday, April 14. Devastated by fire last December, the rug store welcomed friends and family as well as area Malvern merchants to the grand re-opening of its rug gallery, devastated by fire last December. In a generous toast to Malvern and Paoli firefighters, proceeds from Knots and Weaves rug sales through May 14 will support both fire companies. The Greims have also donated an oriental rug for the May 1 Opening of the Radnor Hunt Races and plan a tailgate tribute to the firefighters at the May 21 Races.

Knots and Weaves owners Jim and Kerry Greim of Malvern and caterer Charlie Orlando from the Yellow Springs Inn. Photos courtesy of Kahl photo.

Jim Ruggiero of Ruggiero Law Offices in Paoli and Lisa Bennett of Sugartown Strawberries in Malvern at the opening party for Knots and Weaves.

Tom Bentley of Newtown Square and Leslie Padilla of Devon. An oriental rug was raffled off at the party.